FRUEAUFVILLAGE

THE FRUEAUF NAME

Frueauf Village is named after Ore Frueauf, one of the early legends of Falls Creek.

Ore was born in Russia and moved to Germany where he was conscripted to the German Army during the Second World War. He was a POW until 1948 and upon release he migrated to Australia working on hydroelectricity projects in Tasmania, NSW and finally Bogong in the Victorian Alps where he decided to stay and live.

Ore became a pioneer of Falls Creek, building one of the very first accommodation venues called "Snow Haven Lodge" which was located where Frueauf Village sits today.

Snowhaven was actually the second lodge built in Falls Creek for commercial accommodation and Ore was also a partner in Winter Haven the first "general store".

Ore was well known for his generosity, his enduring sense of hospitality to all who came to his door as well as his constant endearing and happy disposition. You may also notice that the home run across from Frueauf Village is named in memory of Ore – Ore's trail - and is a perfect way to end your day- straight to our front door (snow cover permitting).

We hope you enjoy your time at Frueauf Village and hope you find our little part of Falls Creek as memorable as Ore Frueauf was to all who met him.

To pronounce Frueauf as Ore liked it you pronounce it as FREE – OFF not FROO – OFF.

FRUEAUFVILLAGE

MOVING AROUND FALLS CREEK

Walking

Please consider that you are in an alpine environment and the temperature is often below zero. Ice can form in a layer on top of the snow and black ice can form on exposed road and concrete surfaces. This creates a very slippery surface that is difficult to see. We suggest you wear shoes with a sturdy sole and take extra care in the mornings and evenings.

Snow collects on roofs and icicles can form on building over hangs. The snow and ice may fall to the ground at any time. When entering and exiting buildings, always be aware of the potential for falling snow and ice - LOOK UP!

Look for metal staircase pathways for shortcuts around the village and to avoid walking on snow where possible.

Pathways within Frueauf Village are heated and ice should not be an issue but please be careful anyway.

Ski-In, Ski-Out

When there is snow through the village and on the home trails, you can ski-in, ski-out.

From Frueauf Village, you can ski down through the village to the Falls Express Chairlift.

From the ski area, head down the home trail to the village bowl and take Ory's Trail which will take you back to the front of Frueauf Village.
